Re: Citation of Prior Art, 35 U.S.C. 301 concerning Application 10/669,596

Attn: Isis AD Ghali, Art Unit 1611

In accordance with 35 U.S.C 301, I am citing my printed patent application 10/302,527 as prior art.

Please compare my patent application Method for Increasing Muscle Strength with the patent application Biomolecular Wearable Apparatus.

The biomolecular wearable apparatus is non-transdermal (waterproof) and contains biomolecular ingredients. These ingredients are all nutrients (including amino acids) regardless of their levorotatory or dextrorotatory orientation in space. This invention claims to increase muscle strength by wearing this apparatus.

My invention is a nutrient holding device in which the nutrients (including amino acids) are encased in a waterproof housing which makes it non-transdermal. My invention claims to increase muscle strength by wearing such an apparatus.

Thank You,

Dr. Edward L. Blerdermann, DC
